Oak Hall and the Bi-Centennial.

Our exhibit in the Trades Procession of the Bi-Centennial Celebration on October 25th will illustrate the great stock of men's and boys' clothing now ready in Oak Hall. Our preparations for the trade of this Autumn and Winter already reach

One Million Dollars.

Our stock is in all respects the best we have ever offered, and we firmly believe has never been equaled in volume by any retail clothing house in America.

Do not fail to visit Oak Hall. Look at the Clothing and Piece Goods, go through the workrooms and see how the vast place goes on. We have a hearty welcome for all, whether buyers or visitors. The tens of thousands of friends we have made in the country about Philadelphia during the last twenty-two years are, we are sure, more firmly our friends than ever before. We have gained their confidence by giving them the best dollar's worth of clothing to be had anywhere, and we offer a new pledge of fidelity in our low prices and elegant Autumn stock for this year's sales.

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind. Dec. 1, 1880.
For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

Calling the Roll.

In one of his recent speeches, Controller Pattison, in words of singular directness and force, referred to a subject which is of interest at this time, viz: the demoralization of politics in Pennsylvania as illustrated in its evil effects upon young men and those taking practical interest in public affairs. Attention was called to the startling fact that the political highway is strewn with the wrecks of once bright and promising young men, and it was pointed out that there must be destructive influences at work where only a pure, healthful and elevating atmosphere should prevail. The thoughtful words of the sober-minded and patriotic Democratic candidate are only too true, as is abundantly evidenced by the record of almost every county in the state. It is as though a political pestilence had swept from the Delaware to Lake Erie, striking down a multitude of gifted, ambitious and once worthy young men. A glance at the Legislative record will bring out most suggestively the idea referred to, and show, inferentially, in vivid colors, the miasmatic condition of the moral political atmosphere at the state capitol during the past twenty years, or since the Republican party came into power

Since 1850 over two thousand men have sat in the Legislature of Pennsylvania. Most of these, when they first went to Harrisburg, were young men, just fairly entering upon the serious work of life. A large proportion of them were well-fitted, as to mental endowments and early training, for useful, honorable and distinguished public service. Nearly all were ambitious to rise in political life, and it is safe to say that very few were simply actuated by sordid and degrading motives. Even those who fell the quickest and the farthest little dreamed of such a deplorable fate. Of course, it was not possible within the circumscribed area of a single state, and considering the sharp competition of public life, that all of these men should become famous and powerful, but the disproportion between the number reasonably successful in this respect and the number of the lost, so to speak, is terribly suggestive. Take the list of membership of the Senate and House, as it appears in full from 1850 to 1880 in Smull's hand book, and it reads like a roll of the unknown, with here and there, at long intervals, a familiar and honored name, and it is a significant fact that nearly all of these took their start in public life prior to 1861; further, that a majority of them have been associated with the Democratic party.

In the Senate roll we find the names of Charles R. Buckalew, afterward United States senator and Democratic candidate for governor in 1872; A. G. Brodhead, of Carbon county; Andrew H. Dill, Democratic candidate for governor in 1878; Daniel Ermentrout, now member of Congress from Berks; John W. Killinger, congressional representative from Lebanon for several terms; W. W. Ketchum, afterward an influential member of Congress, and late United States Judge; Geo. V. Lawrence, elected to Congress from the Beaver-Washington district; William McCandless, elected secretary of internal affairs in 1875; Charles B. Penrose, now a judge of the orphans' court of Philadelphia; Eli K. Price, the Nestor of the Philadelphia bar; Wm. F. Packer, the last Democratic governor of Pennsylvania, elected in 1857; Samuel S. Randall, ex-speaker of the national House of Representatives, and Pennsylvania's most distinguished member in that body during the present generation; Glenni W. Scofield, for twelve years an influential member of congress and now judge of the court of claims, Washington; Wm. A Wallace, United States senator from 1875 to 1881; Hiester Clymer, Democratic candidate for governor and late member of Congress; and John Stewart, Independent Republican candidate for governor.

The names of those who are found on the roll of the House first, later also on that of the Senate, and, therefore, already referred to, who have rendered a good account of themselves, is very meagre, indeed. J. Simpson Africa, the present Democratic candidate for secretary of internal affairs, heads the list alphabetically, and following it down we discover the names of Wm. H. Armstrong, late member of Congress from the Lycoming district, and now a bureau officer at Washington; Charles E. Boyle, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Westmoreland district; Thomas Cochran, president of a leading financial institution in Philadelphia, and one of the wheel-horses of the Centennial exposition; G. Dawson Coleman, who became congressman from the Lebanon district; Henry D. Foster, Democratic candidate for governor in 1860; Isaac G. Gordon, now a justice of the supreme court of Pennsylvania; Cyrus L. Pershing, Democratic candidate for governor in 1875; the model judge of Schuylkill county, to whom the people of that region are indebted for the suppression of Mollie Maguireism; John G. Hall, now the able Democratic senator from Elk county; John I Mitchell, United States senator, and Charles S. Wolfe, the Independent Republican leader. This practically exhausts a list, as we have said, of over two thousand names.

Here is a revelation which ought to arouse the people of Pennsylvania to determined and successful effort to bring about immediate and effective political reformation. For twenty years the men who have gone up to the state capitol to serve the people have been compelled to go through an ordeal of temptation that only moral giants can withstand. Their pathway has been beset by the secret and open enemies of public and private virtue, and scores and hundreds have fallen victims of the political leprosy of the time. They have been ruined and lost and the people betrayed and plundered; while many more, alarmed for their own safety and honor, have fled from the field as from the plague, leaving the government of the state almost at the mercy of public brigands and vampires. There must be a change and that at once, and now is the time to begin the new era by strengthening the hands of our coming brave and patriotic young governor through the election of a thoroughly trustworthy reform Legislature. Let us make clean work of it "on the hill" and begin anew with the coming new year. —Lancaster Intelligencer.

The Bosses Arraigned.

EX-ATTORNEY GENERAL LEAR OPENS FIRE ON THE STALWARTS—WHEN CAMERON HAD TOOTHACHE—GENERAL BEAVER'S RESPONSIBILITY IN THIS CAMPAIGN.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct., 21.—The Independent Republicans held a grand mass meeting in this city last evening. Gen. McCartney, of Luzerne, and Attorney General Lear spoke. Following is General Lear's remarks: I have reached this place, said Mr. Lear, by gradual approaches. I have stood by the regular organization until it became unendurable. When, in 1851, the Whig party betrayed this confidence and trust of the people the independent spirit of freemen arose in its might and the Republican party was formed. The so-called regular organization stands to-day where the old Whig party stood then.

The Harrisburg Convention, over which I presided, adopted a platform which would, if carried into effect, have done much to purify and reform the party. That platform has not been fulfilled.

Editors have argued that a platform can only bind the acts of candidates after they have been elected. This is a fallacy. A portion of this platform was framed to meet issues involved in the campaign. General Lear showed how the rules prescribing the calling of conventions and election of delegates had been violated by the nomination of a candidate for Congressman-at Large, and spoke of the resolutions condemning the use of political appointments to promote personal political ends and condemning political assessments, and showed how they had been violated throughout the whole campaign, dwelling particularly upon the removal of Collector Thatcher, of Bucks county, to make a place for Delegate Stoever, who in the Harrisburg Convention voted for Rawle for Supreme Judge.

Has the assessment of office holders ceased? he shouted. No! It is incessant, merciless, notorious. It spares neither age, sex nor condition. It is the lever of bossism, and wherever it presses springs forth the deadly virus of corruption.

How is General Beaver responsible for these violations? He is the standard-bearer, by right and power the leader in this campaign. A day after the convention Senator Cooper acted as chairman of the State Committee. It had not met. He had not been elected by the convention. Whence did he draw his authority except from the candidates? He expresses their sentiments, he does their will. If not, why does not General Beaver take him by the throat and see that the pledges of the convention are sustained?

If he has not enough moral courage to do this he is incompetent. If he can conscientiously approve the conduct of this campaign he is morally unworthy to be Governor of Pennsylvania.

The only time that he ever rose above the stifling mud of Cameronism was when, breathing the pure air of Bucks county, he said that the Senator was a very little man. Afterwards he explained by saying that he referred to Cameron's physical insignificance. Strange thing to say about a man who stands six feet in his stockings.

The same week Agriculturist Cameron came to Philadelphia to attend a dinner at the Farmers' Club. He summoned Philadelphia's business men about him. He heard their views of the campaign. He bounded from his seat and with lowering brow, clenched fist, fierce eyes—oh, what a subject for a painter! how like the scene when Satan and Death met on the confines of that great conflagration which Henry Ward Beecher has just extinguished—he shouted, "This fight shall be fought out on this ticket, and if I go down it will be with flying colors." Not the party, I—J. Donald Cameron.

There was another convention in Philadelphia on May 24. It has stood by its platform. John Stewart has carried its banner, and not a stain marks its glorious folds. They have met him with blackguardism rather than with argument.

Three hundred thousand out of four hundred thousand Republicans of this State feel as I do, but too many of them fear to take my stand because they think that they cannot elect John Stewart. I vote not for success, but for the right.

The Republican party is a sensiate being—it has a soul. Bestripped of the pure breath of its being, I spurn with contempt its dismembered limbs and putrescent body. The old cry of Democratic victory has too long been the shibboleth of the bosses. We want a party not for offices, not to confer offices upon unworthy men, but for a purpose which, founded on right and justice, means more and higher things than the perpetuation of Cameron's control. Some talk about unloading Cameron by voting for his ticket with a sort of mental reservation. This is no time for halting now. The fight is on, the gage has been thrown down, the proclamation is abroad, the bugles are ringing in our ears and the cause of Republican regeneration on the one hand and political slavery on the other is before us, and we have our choice.

Waste.

In this age of progress and high civilization when the demands of the consumer must be satisfied at any cost, the great problem which presents itself is how can the waste be utilized? Manufacturing establishments, railroad companies and business men of all classes have been compelled to tackle this problem, and in a number of instances it has been successfully solved. Great iron establishments increase their profits materially by the sale of waste and scrap material or by reutilizing it for the purposes for which it was originally intended. The railroad companies by a patent process make into lumps and use for running their engines the coal dust which is lost in crushing the black diamonds as they come from the mines. There is practically no waste matter in this world. The main question is, who shall be benefitted by the utilization of that which is cast aside as worthless, and the sentiment is gradually growing that the owners of the so called waste should be the beneficiaries.

It is a fact self evident and undenied by competent authorities, that in no business or industry of whatever kind, is there so much waste as there has been in the administration of the state government under republican rule. The expenses of the government within the last fifteen years have been constantly on the increase. For instance the ordinary expenditure for state government in 1860 was $947,911.81. This, after the war's close, was annually rapidly increased, so that in 1880, included half the expenses of the legislature for 1879, properly chargeable to '80, it reached the enormous figure of $4,962,105.50. It will be observed from these figures that the fraction above the millions in the estimate for 1880 exceeds the entire cost of running the government in 1860. This increase it must be remembered was not caused by extra expenses during the war period as these are not included. More of it is chargeable to waste than the taxpayer can imagine. There are various kinds of waste under the state government. Waste is made by the creation of unnecessary offices as rewards for political services by the employment of numerous incompetent officials, whose places could be ably and satisfactorily filled by an honest and intelligent clerk at the same salary one of the worthless officials receives. There is waste in the supplies which are furnished to the various departments and this is made to give a chance for a divide between the contractors and those who let the contracts. Waste is made by the multiplication of offices and by appropriations to unnecessary objects, and in other ways too numerous to mention. All of this money which goes to waste under republican rule comes directly from the pockets of the taxpayers, and it is part of the same money they labor for day in and day out.

One of the chief questions of this campaign is, shall this waste be utilized and if so, shall it be utilized for the benefit of the people to whom it properly belongs? To these questions Mr. Robert E. Pattison the democratic candidate for governor emphatically answers "yes." Mr. Pattison's record shows that he is a man who carries out his intentions so far as lies within his power. His intention is to exercise the functions of the chief executive so as in every possible way to save this waste and to save it for the people.—Harrisburg Patriot.

Ohio.

The official figures of the Ohio election extinguish the explanations of the Republican defeat in that State, and show conclusively that the alleged absenteeism was not the cause of it at all. There was a positive purpose to rebuke and to punish the parties of fanaticism, of extravagance, and of corruption, by the open defection of a large portion of its former supporters which found quite as strong expression in the Western Reserve as in the German wards of Cincinnati.

To illustrate the change that has taken place in public sentiment, we present the returns for the last three consecutive years between the Republicans and Democrats, omitting the scattering, which do not affect either side:

Judge of Supreme Court, 1880.

Melvaine, Republican	364,045
Follett, Democrat	340,998
Total	705,043
Melvaine's majority	23,047

Governor, 1881.

Foster, Republican	312,735
Bookwalter, Democrat	288,426
Total	602,161
Foster's majority	24,309

The falling off of the vote on each side was nearly equal.

Secretary of state, 1882.

Townsend, Republican	297,759
Newman, Democrat	316,874
Total	614,633
Newman's majority	19,115

The aggregate vote was nearly twelve thousand greater than last year, and the result shows a change of 43,424 votes in twelve months between two elections. No single cause could have brought about this remarkable reaction, which was peculiar in being a silent revolution, and was a surprise to the managers of both the political machines.

The Democrats were as much astounded at the success as the Republicans were confounded at the defeat. This fact is one of the most healthy signs of the change, because it shows there is a large intelligent and independent vote ready at the proper time to resume control of power whenever it has been betrayed.

Twenty-one years of continued possession of the Government have made the republican party corrupt, arrogant, prodigal, and dangerous. The great questions that called it into existence have all passed away. Slavery is dead and cannot be resurrrected. Secession is buried below the graves of a million of men. Half a generation has passed since the last gun of the rebellion was fired.

We have entered upon a new era, but the politicians do not appreciate the transition. They cling to the old methods, and expect to govern the new departure with the musty traditions of the past and some modern improvements of rascality superadded to them. The "grand old party" has been run for years as a close corporation; and when the corporators fall out among themselves over a division of the plunder, they resort to bribery, to fraud, and to forged proxies as "moral ideas" to promote their purposes.

The whole power, the patronage, the influence, and the property of the Government have been openly used and abused to continue the ascendancy of this party. An oligarchy of venal and trafficking office-holders is in possession at Washington, they seek to retain it by money extorted through arbitrary levies, or contributed by Rings, jobbers, monopolists, and contractors, who fatten on the Treasury.

To maintain this system, it is necessary to keep up exorbitant taxation, so that an immense surplus may be assured for distribution among the managers and their dependants. The leaders are ready and willing to make any combinations that promise support. Hence, they have coalesced with MAHONE and repudiation in Virginia; with CHALMERS, of the Fort Pillow massacre, in Mississippi; with CASH the professional duelist, in South Carolina; with JONES, the representative Greenbacker, in Texas; and with the worse class of Bourbons in North Carolina.

The people have seen this perversion of public trusts constantly growing worse. They have seen aspirants for the Presidency and Senators and Representatives and members of Cabinets and Judges growing suddenly rich by barefaced jobbery, collusion, and venality. They have seen the Government converted into a mere partisan machine. They have seen the great distinctions at which honorable ambition aims auctioned to the highest bidder or parcelled out for votes in nominating conventions. They saw the Presidency stolen in 1876. And they have just seen a Secretary of the Treasury made a candidate for Governor by a stock jobber and by forgery, publicly endeavoring by false statements to procure his own election.

The causes of rebellion against the mother country were small indeed compared with these excesses and crimes. The Revolution started on a small tax. In time of profound peace, and without even a plausible pretext, the extremest methods of taxation invented for war are kept up to the highest point, and a traveling Commission of the agents of several monopolies, salaried at the public expense, threatens to raise taxations still higher!

The people have borne this tyranny, this corruption, and this extortion already too long. They have submitted in patience until further forbearance would be degradation. They have calmly but firmly resolved to smash the machine, and to make a settlement with the managers once for all. Ohio was the beginning of the end.—*N. Y. Sun

THE COLUMBIAN.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1882.

Democratic Ticket.

STATE.

For Governor,
Robert E. Pattison.

For Lieutenant-Governor,
Chauncey F. Black.

For Secretary of Internal Affairs
J. Simpson Africa.

JUDICIARY.

For Judge of the Supreme Court,
Silas M. Clark.

For President Judge,
William Elwell.

COUNTY.

For Congress-at-Large,
Mortimer F. Elliott.

For Congress,
John B. Storm.

For State Senator,
William W. Hart.

For Representatives,
T. J. Vanderslice,
William Bryson.

For Sheriff,
John Mourey.

For Coroner,
John P. Hannon.

For Jury Commissioner,
George W. Derr.

HOW TO VOTE.

There are three tickets to be voted next Tuesday. One is headed STATE, another JUDICIARY, the third COUNTY. Separate them, and fold them so that these words will appear on the outside. See that the name of Mortimer F. Elliott appears at the head of the county ticket for Congressman-at-large. Do not scratch a single name. In order to make our victory complete every name on the ticket should have a full vote.

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF COLUMBIA COUNTY:

At no time during the last twenty-two years has there been as bright a prospect for the election of the Democratic State ticket, as there is this Fall.

Our common foe are disheartened and as a last desperate effort, are endeavoring to divert Democratic votes from the regular Democratic ticket.

Let every Democrat beware of the advance of the enemy and be sure to see that his ticket contains the names of all the Democratic nominees, from Governor down to Jury Commissioner.

Every Democrat should constitute himself a committee of one to see that all the Democratic votes in his neighborhood are polled.

Forward! And victory will be ours.

C. A. KLEIM, R. BUCKINGHAM,
Secretary, Chairman.

Vote for John B. Storm for Congress.

For Sheriff, give your hearty support to John Mourey. There will be an effort to combine the Wolf and Kostenbauder votes against him but he will be elected all the same, by a large majority.

Give one day more to your country. Let the SEVENTH of November be a day hallowed by the overthrow of this false Republicanism, which curses the country. Take HART of the situation and STORM the works of the enemy; and let the comet blaze in the morning to celebrate our victory.

The time to defeat the Republicans is not next year, it is this year; and next year they will be defeated to start with. One solid day's work now is worth two next fall. Now is the accepted time; don't let it go by without putting in a full day. Have your ticket ready, vote it and then see that your neighbor is at the polls and votes for Pattison.

Vote for T. J. Vanderslice and William Bryson for Representatives. They are the only regular democrats in the field, and the only candidates for that office who are working earnestly for the success of the state ticket. Do not be deceived by any side issues. While the candidates on other tickets may be sincere, their candidacy only tends to weaken the democratic vote, and they should therefore, not be encouraged. Vote the whole ticket from Governor to Jury Commissioner.

The office holders at Washington are assessed in order to meet the demands of Mahone in Virginia. He threatens the Administration with defection if his demands are refused. The coalition with Mahone is so well carried out that Dezendorf, the Republican candidate for congress in the Norfolk district, complained that the public patronage had been used against him. The Administration very frankly told him "that the bargain with Mahone must be kept." But it looks evident that the coalition will be beaten even with Jay Hubbel's assessments. This is a year for reform in every section.

MAIMED SOLDIERS.

"He came back to us a maimed soldier; his brother and many others of his comrades sleep "where glory guards with solemn round, the bivoue of the dead" and to all we owe more of honor than the living can ever bestow."

The above is a copy of a circular that the stalwarts are posting all over the state. With them we say all honor to the soldiers, one legged or two legged, who served his country faithfully. But it strikes us the soldier business as a political dodge is played out. It does not seem to work both ways. McClellan was a brave soldier, but he was not elected President. Gen. Ent was a brave soldier, but he was defeated for a state office. Gen. Hancock was a brave soldier but he was defeated for the Presidency. The Independent ticket presents two one legged soldiers and the stalwarts are denouncing them, and yet they ask for support for Beaver because he lost a leg in the war. Let us apply the soldier matter at home and see how inconsistent and false are the pretenses of this Cameron party. Capt. H. J. Conner, a brave soldier, was a candidate for nomination for the legislature before the county Republican convention; he was defeated because he was not in sympathy with the bosses. Geo. W. Mears, who served faithfully and "came back to us a maimed soldier" with an armless sleeve, was a candidate at the same time for jury commissioner, but he too, was set aside, because he did not suit the machine leaders. John Graham, another brave soldier, lost a leg in the war, but no one ever heard the present incumbent of the post office proposing to give up his place so that a maimed soldier could be appointed. This soldier cry is a sham and a pretense on the part of the stalwarts to catch the votes of those who are weak enough to be caught by such chaff. They have turned it into a farce, and shown their own inconsistency, and if it recoils now upon their own heads it is the fault of no one else. The men who are crying the loudest for Beaver, the maimed soldier, are those who never smelled gunpowder in the late rebellion.

Don Cameron, we believe, hired a substitute, and yet the Republican party have given him a seat in the highest legislative body in the land. General Beaver did not have any more legs then than he has now. But Beaver could not get an office until he sold out to Cameron at Chicago, violated his instructions, voted for Grant, and thus secured the promise of a nomination for governor. That is all there is of the one leg business so far as Stalwarts are concerned.

THE IRISH VOTE.

The managers of the stalwart campaign know very well that unless they can make a break in the Democratic ranks, that the game is all up with them. They have attempted to purchase the labor vote by using Armstrong as a stool pigeon; they have bought up an occasional individual supposed to have some local political influence, and whose price was not over five hundred dollars; they hold the colored vote with a very uncertain grip, and it is likely to slip from them at any moment. But now the Republican party appears in an entirely new role. It has suddenly become the friend of the Irishman, and is endeavoring to secure his vote by the blackest and most contemptible of lies. For years Republicans have been calling the Democratic party, a party of ignorance, superstition and fraud, and the reason why they have applied such epithets to us is because the Irish generally vote the Democratic ticket. For years they have insulted and slurred the Irishmen of this country, but now when they want their votes they suddenly discover that the Democratic party is not the friend of the Irishman. If the Irish vote is cast for Pattison his election is as certain as the sun rises. Realizing this fact, the corrupt and unscrupulous leaders are making a final effort to capture that vote. Weeks ago the Philadelphia Times exposed the plan. Delaney, a paid agent of Cameron, secured the names of 40,000 Irish Catholics in this state, and sent to them circulars containing a false speech alleged to have been made by Pattison in which he is charged with saying that the "O's and the Mac's must go to the rear." Mr. Pattison declares he never used the language, the respectable dailies that reported the speech at the time, say that there was no such thing in it, and yet after all this the lie is stuck to, and by some means got into the New York Tablet a Catholic Republican paper. The Tablet has been sent, or will be, to the 40,000 persons whose names Delaney has, and it is likely that every Irishman in this county will get a copy of it. The publisher of the Republican is taking care that every one in this town shall see the article, and it is really amusing to see his friendly approaches to men whom but a few years ago he called "the scum of the land," "copperhead" and other like appellations. Will a single Irish voter be caught by such chaff? For years the Republican party has denounced and deceived them, the Democratic party has befriended them, and now can it be possible that a fabricated lie will lead the Irish voter into the camp of their own worst enemy? No, and the vote of next Tuesday will show that the labor vote and the Irish vote has been cast almost solidly for Robert E. Pattison, the friend of the oppressed and the guardian of the tax payers' interest.

HON. JOHN B. STORM.

Between this and next Tuesday circulars will be sent out denouncing Mr. Storm as a free trader and the foe of the laboring man. It is to be issued so late in the campaign as to afford no opportunity for reply or explanation. This is a cowardly mode of political warfare, and no party will resort to it unless driven to desperation. The object of the circular is to injure Mr. Storm in the mining and manufacturing portions of the district and to affect the party generally. Mr. Storm has on every occasion when an opportunity was afforded, denounced the charges made against him. The very remark they are quoting to prove him a free trader, was made in defense of a tariff for revenue, and in the interest of the laboring classes. His whole public life is proof of the falsity of these campaign yarns. If Mr Storm were a free trader he could not have our support. The people of this district have to choose between an able lawyer, a man of public experience on one side, and a beardless youth on the other, to represent them in Congress. Mr. Storm will have the usual majority of about 8000.

Every Democrat in the state will rejoice that William A. Wallace has consented to return to the state Senate. Young, able, enthusiastic and eloquent, he is a natural leader. He knows the state, is a good lawyer, and public business will be attended to by him.

THE TICKETS.

The Democratic tickets have been printed and placed in the hands of the committeemen of the several districts, or left at the polling places. Those who do not get tickets before Tuesday should not stay away from the polls on that account. They can get them of the committeeman when they go to vote.

Take no ticket from anyone unless you know it is all right. Cut out the ticket at the top of the first column of the second page of this paper and carry it with you, and compare your ticket with it. See that every name is on, and properly spelled. There will be all sorts of bogus tickets in circulation, and unless we keep our eyes open the enemy will deceive us.

ANOTHER SCHEME FRUSTRATED.

MAHLON HAMLIN NOT A CANDIDATE.

Greenback circulars have been sent out through the county, containing a ticket with the names of the candidates of that party. Among them is the name of Mahlon Hamlin, as candidate for representative. Mr. Hamlin authorizes us to say that his name was placed thereon without his consent, and that he is not a greenbacker, and never has been, and is not now a candidate for the office on that ticket. He wants it understood that he is a Democrat, and always has been, and will not permit the use of his name in any way that is intended to injure the Democratic party. Examine your tickets and see that the names of William Bryson and T. J. Vanderslice are on them.

Boss Colporteurs Among Catholics.

Delaney, although compelled to go to the rear after the exposure of his operations in The Times, is not idle. He has been reduced from a wholesale to a retail auctioneer, and he is now working a number of Catholic colporteurs or pretended book agents in Northumberland, Montour, Columbia, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Schuylkill and Carbon. Among them is an old Democratic policeman from Philadelphia, who has been doing Montour. They pretend to sell Catholic books and thus visit Catholic families, and they invariably tell the fabricated Pattison speech about the Macks and the O's wherever they go. That is really what they are employed for, and Delaney has them now, under Boss pay, in all the Catholic settlements of this region.

Beaver Hats at a Discount.

THE HATTER TO THE COOPER'S COMMITTEE ANXIOUS TO UNLOAD.

PITTSBURG, October 25.

That the boss campaign is in desperate straits is an open secret. The campaign assessment robbery has been practiced with unprecedented vigor in this city and elsewhere, and the collecting agents of Boss Cooper have been given every assistance in squeezing the victims to the last extremity. But notwithstanding this fact the canvass lags for want of means. C. L. Magee is now East looking after funds to meet the desperate exigencies of the last days of the campaign, and it is freely confessed that, unless his mission is successful, Beaver will fall behind Pattison in the vote in this county, while the issue between Beaver and Stewart is beginning to take on a measure of uncertainty.

One of the most convincing evidences of Stalwart disappointment has just been developed here. It will be remembered that early in the canvass Chairman Cooper, General Beaver and other great party leaders brought their powerful minds into concert to decide upon a uniform hat to be worn by the Beaver clubs. After mature deliberation and careful canvass a tile was agreed upon and Harry M. Geary, of Philadelphia, appointed as hatter to the Beaver party. Mr. Geary at once began the manufacture on an extensive scale of "the campaign regulation hat, as approved by the Republican state central committee." Circulars were issued, voluminously describing the style, giving the prices and other particulars of the matter, and the announcement, that "Officers' hats, with gilt cards, 25 cents extra," gave additional interest and a business aspect to the affair that was charming.

The enterprise that began so hopefully did not prove profitable, however, for, like Field Marshall Cooper's Labor contingent, Land League effort and other diversions into the realms of commercial politics, it fell still-born. Mr. Geary, credulous and contented, entered upon his part of the agreement with characteristic energy. Beaver hats were made in great quantities, and the shelves were lumbered with their accumulation, but the customers came tardily and like angels visits "few and far between." New circulars were issued and blank orders forwarded with importunate letters, urging purchasers to come to the front, but the trade was dull and the goods failed to find a market.

At last, driven to desperation, Mr. Geary made a final appeal to retailers, of which the following is a sample. It was mailed in an envelope upon the corner of which was printed in italic capitals, "Headquarters Republican State Committee, Philadelphia," and the accompanying circulars and forms were so numerous that "due 3 cents" formed a conspicuous sign over the direction, while the overweight stamp balanced the thing.

"Dear Sirs: We are under the impression we have got too much stock in Beaver hats ready for delivery and are willing to make some sacrifice and sell some to those who have already received and handled the goods for less than cost. You have no competition and we will deliver you the goods hereafter at $1.75, or $21 per dozen Please send orders and we will ship with promptness. Yours, etc.,

"HARRY M. GEARY."

Victor E. Piolett, state lecturer of the Grangers who has been traveling throughout the state says Beaver will not lead Stewart 25,000 votes and that Pattison's plurality will not be less than 100,000.

Stalwarts who are boasting that Beaver will be elected "as sure as the sun rises on Tuesday" had better get out their campaign torches and trim them up, for if their assertions are correct Tuesday will be a very cloudy day for them.

If we go to the polls on the seventh day of November and stay and work and vote all day, every Democrat in the United States will be rushing up to Pattison the back, on the morning of the eighth. Let Columbia County deserve well of her compeers; aye, let her lead the van in the size of her majority. What have you to do on election day! Nothing to compare with your duty to go to the election and vote for the whole Democratic ticket. Solid shot, boys, brings down the enemy. Dont waste your ballots.

Ex-United States Senator Hon. Bainbridge Wadleigh of New Hampshire delivered an address before a large number of independents at Keene, last week, at which time he arraigned the Republican party, as controled by the machine, for their extravagance and corruption. Mr. Wadleigh was one of the ablest United States Senators in his day. Although elected to the senate by the Republicans, yet he was opposed to Grant, Boss Shepherd, Rescoe Conkling, and others, who attempted to crush the freedom of the press. His bold stand for independence at this time, will tell upon the election in New Hampshire.

"I never cast a vote," said Mr. Wadleigh, "which did not bear the names of the Republican candidates. I stood, I may say, by the cradle of the Republican party; God grant it may not rot and die in its own corruption! I am here to-night against my interests, to do what we can to rescue it from the domination of the selfish men who use and debase it, and who will destroy it if the honest Republican masses do not rise and prevent them. Look at the injury such men have wrought on the Republican party. Recall the long list of their infamies. Time to enumerate them all would fail me: I will recall only a few. Think of the sickening revelations of the Credit Mobilier investigation, in which the greatest rogues escaped; the Pacific Mail subsidy steal, under the hypocritic pretence of reviving American commerce; the countless rascalities of the District of Columbia Ring, with their crowning infamy, the safe burglary conspiracy; a Secretary of War selling offices: a Secretary of the Navy making corrupt and illegal contracts and selling our war ships for old junk; the gigantic crooked whiskey frauds; the blackmailing of legislation by conspiracies of lobbyists and officeholders; the MULLIGAN letters; public men acquiring millions of dollars in a few years, nobody knows how; the public service made the currency to pay political debts with; the star route frauds, whose chief perpetrator, his associates in the Republican National Committee dare not to remove from its Chairmanship!"

After pointing out clearly the frauds that had been perpetrated by those who are now sustaining the administration, Mr. Wadleigh gave his remedy for this great evil that is being perpetrated, as follows:

"As for me," he said, "I say frankly that I will vote for Mr. Edgerly, not as a Democrat, but as an honest man. I am sure that if he is elected we, as citizens of the Granite State, shall never be ashamed of him. He will, I am sure, give us a conservative, honest administration, fair to all parties.

Mr. Edgerly, Democratic candidate of New Hampshire, like Robert E. Pattison, Democratic candidate of Pennsylvania has a record clear of all stain. A vote for either of them will be a vote for honest administration Thousands of independents will vote for Robert E. Pattison, because he has been tried in the Republican city of Philadelphia, and has shown himself to be an honest and efficent man.

The first snow of the season is reported to have fallen at Grand Forks, Dakota, on Monday morning. The next phenomina of this kind will happen in the States of Pennsylvania and New York next Tuesday, and it wont be a little flurry either. The boss ticket in both States will be completely snowed under.—Philadelphia Times.

The stalwart papers that are circulating the lie about the O's and the Mac's ought to take J. W. Gerdeman, an ex-catholic priest, now a protestant lawyer, off the stump. The papers say that Pattison is the enemy of the Irish, but Gerdeman finds fault with him because "of the twenty-three appointments made by Pattison, seventeen have been catholics." Gerdeman is stumping for Beaver.

Senator Wadleigh is actively engaged stumping the state of New Hampshire against the Republican nominees and urging the Independents to support the Democratic candidates. There is an open fight against the Republican candidates who have received their nominations through the manipulations of the administration, and a great number are turning to the Democratic party which will reverse the majority in that state.

Somebody with malicious intent has put in circulation rumors to the effect that some of the best Democrats in the county are working in the interest of Beaver. It is no wonder that these gentlemen became indignant when such reports came to their ears. The only object could have been to induce others to do likewise, and to cause disaffection in our ranks. The number of Democrats who will vote for Beaver in Columbia county will not require all the fingers of one hand to count them.

A LEAP INTO POPULAR FAVOR.

It is not always that the world acknowledges what is right and best; but Burdock Blood Bitters, by universal acquiesence, have been awarded the premium for cleansing the blood, curing indigestion, constipation, regulating the bowels, and toning up weak nerves. Price $1.00.

It is claimed by Beaver's friends that he is an honest man, and therefore should be elected governor. The same claim was made for Hoyt, and yet what a miserable fist he has made of it—why? Because he was in the hands of the bosses, the mere tool of Kemble, Quay and Cameron. It is admitted now; before his election it was denied. Beaver is in the same hands and will be put to the same rascally uses. Vote against him and you strike the whole gang.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall-St., N.Y. aug 11-1 y.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT An application will be made, under the provisions of the Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved 29th day of April, 1874, entitled "An Act to provide for the Incorporation and Regulation of certain Corporations," and several supplements thereto, for the charter of a corporation, to be called "THE JOHNSON BRASLEY COAL COMPANY," proposed to be incorporated for the purpose of mining and selling anthracite coal, and acquiring and exercising all the franchises, rights and privileges relating to or connected with the acquisition, use and disposition of real and personal property, and all other franchises, rights and privileges of a mining company incorporated under the above mentioned Act and supplements.

The mining operations of the Company are to be carried on in the county of Columbia, in the State of Pennsylvania, and sales and deliveries are to be made within or without the said State. Power to sell or release the real estate of the corporation is to be exercised by the Directors without the necessity of obtaining the consent of the stockholders.

Personal.

Mrs. M. C. Woodward is spending a few weeks at Rome, N. Y.

W. H. Jacoby is in Scranton at present We learn he is employed in the Times office.

C. W. Funston returned last Saturday from Missouri, bringing with him twenty-five ponies. A number of them have already been sold.

W. J. Buckalew, Esq., who has been ill for several weeks, died Thursday afternoon about three o'clock.

Daniel Goodman and family, of Montana, this county, were the guests of B. F. Zarr the fore part of this week.

Miss. Anna Brugler left home last week, to teach one of the Conyngham Schools, at a salary of forty two dollars per month.

Mr. Frank J. Quinn, of Allentown, Pa., father of Mrs. W. J. Buckalew, and brother-in-law of Sheriff Ent, spent several days in town this week.

Mr. Craig, a typo of the Gazette & Bulletin office, Williamsport, spent a few days in town this week. He learned his trade in this place with W. H. Jacoby.

Mrs. M. C. Sloan was seized with a severe illness while in Philadelphia. Mr. Sloan was fortunately able to bring her home but she has been lying in a critical condition the past week.

C. C. Galignan is selling quite a number of stoves. He keeps a nice variety.

Bishop Hirst preached in the M. E. church last Sunday to very large congregations.

According to the reports of the various railroad companies, there was 901,000 visitors to the Bi.Centennial.

The agony will soon be over. After this week we will give our readers more general reading and less politics.

Lost.—A cuff and cuff button near the Exchange Hotel. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at the office of the hotel.

S. R. Mason, the Greenback labor candidate for governor in 1878, is now stumping for Beaver. He spoke in Catawissa on Tuesday.

A flock of wild geese numbering about twenty five passed over Bloomsburg, on Wednesday morning, taking a southwesterly direction.

Eli Robbins of Fishingcreek presented us last week with a bunch of celery over four feet high, all nicely bleached. Who can surpass it?

Eli Perkins will lecture in Lock Haven next month. He has lectured in Bloomsburg. The Lock Haven people have our deepest sympathy.

The laying of the corner stone of the New Methodist Episcopal Church in Greenwood, will take place, on next Sunday Nov. 5, at ten o'clock, a. m.

Draft Horse for Sale.—A bay horse about 10 years old, suitable for all farming purposes. Apply to Caswell Brothers, at Woolen Mills.

All kinds of tickets will be in circulation on election day. See that the names of the Democratic candidates are on your ticket, and spelled as they are in this paper.

Blind Charley will give a musical entertainment in the Opera House on Wednesday evening of next week in the interest of the ladies of the Methodist Church. Go and hear him.

The county Commissioners are busily repairing the Court House. The stone steps as well as the pavements in front have been levelled, and the painters are now at work painting and penciling the brick work.

Jeremiah Kostenbauder, the Republican candidate for sheriff, has put in circulation a ticket containing all the Democratic candidates except John Mourey, his own name being substituted. Look at every name on your ticket before you vote.

When others are suffering, drop a word of kindness and sympathy. If they are suffering from a cold, give them Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; a few doses of this valuable remedy will afford instant relief, and a twenty-five cent bottle will cure the worst cough.

A very large meeting was held at Mainville on Wednesday night, and speeches made by J. C. Yocum and H. V. White. The enthusiasm exhibited at all these meetings is strongly in contrast with the apathy in the ranks of the opposition. The stalwarts have had but two meetings in the county and one of those was a failure.

There was an alarm of fire last Saturday about six o'clock in the evening. A house near Lockard's car shops caught fire in the attic among some rags, supposed to have been set by children. The Winona hose carriage made the first start, followed by the Rescue, but the flames were extinguished before they reached the spot.

Dr. A. L. Turner has removed to Bridgeport, Connecticut, where he will make his home in the future, but will make occasional visits to Bloomsburg. During his residence here he built up a reputation that extends beyond the borders of the state, and the Sanitarium, under his care, has become a well known institution. In the treatment of diseases of females, as well as other diseases, he has been very successful, and we hope he may have as large a patronage in his new home as he had here.

The Republican meeting at the Opera House last Friday evening was attended by about 200 people, fully one half of them being Democrats and Independents. The speech was such a dreary affair that more than half the audience left before the speaker concluded.

The usual habit of throwing corn, ringing door bells and hiding gates, signs, &c., was indulged in by the boys on Tuesday evening, (Hallow 'een). If the boys must celebrate this occasion why don't they do something besides the silly plan of throwing corn.

A Musical Convention under the leadership of Prof. A. N. Johnson of New York, will be opened in Knorr & Wintersteen's Hall Monday evening, November 13, 1882, to continue two weeks, evening sessions only. Tuition for the term $1.00. All lovers of vocal music should not fail to attend this excellent drill. 2w

Hazel Kirke was given by the Madison Square Theatre Company in the Opera House on Tuesday evening. There was quite a good attendance notwithstanding the disagreeable weather. The play is a good one, and each character was well represented. We can not make mention in detail. Every one in attendance seemed well pleased.

Dr. L. A. Shattuck who has taken charge of the Sanitarium, comes from Bridgeport, Connecticut, with high recommendations. The papers of that city all speak of him as an excellent physician of large practice, and notice his departure with regret. We clip the following from the Bridgeport Leader.

Dr. L. A. Shattuck has accepted of the Medical Superintendency of the Bloomsburg, Pa., Sanitarium, and removes from this city to that place to day. The Doctor has been a resident of this city for a number of years and enjoyed a lucrative practice, and his many patients will regret this change of base. The Doctor, however, proposes to visit this city once a month, for the present at least. The Bloomsburg Sanitarium is a popular institution, and in securing Dr. Shattuck it secures an able physician and one every way qualified to perform the duties of a medical superintendent.

E. J. McHenry not a Candidate.

To the Democrats of the 24th Senatorial District.

Inasmuch as rumors have been circulated that I was an Independent candidate for Senate in the above district, I take this method of announcing that such rumors are unfounded and that I am not, nor will be a candidate for said office at the coming election. E. J. McHenry.

Van Camp Items.

Mr. Benjamin Hess has been painting and otherwise beautifying his residence.

Our popular merchant, Mr. G. M. Howell, is replenishing his stock of goods preparatory to the fall and winter trade.

A Pattison meeting was held at Bendertown last Saturday evening, and a crowded house listened to addresses from Wm. H. Snyder, A. L. Fritz and Robert Buckingham. Germany will be solid for Pattison.

The farmers are busy making cider and husking corn, the latter being much better in quality and quantity than was at first anticipated.

During the past week Rev. A. Houtz has been holding a series of protracted meetings at St. James' church. The attendance throughout was large and much interest was manifested, as an evidence of which was that fourteen were united to the church by the solemn rite of confirmation. The congregation of the St. James' Reformed church has enjoyed an era of success and prosperity under the pastoral care and supervision of Mr. Houtz. A little more than ten years ago when Mr. Houtz entered upon his present field of labor, the St. James congregation numbered only forty-eight members; it now numbers over one hundred and sixty. The church and its surroundings are beautiful and attractive and tend to make it a model church and congregation.

E. B. B.

John B. Storm and the Grangers.

The following correspondence shows the Hon. John B. Storm, the Democratic candidate for Congress, is the friend of the farmer:

Berwick, Columbia Co., Pa., October 22, 1882.—John B. Storm, Esq—Dear Sir: If elected to Congress will you pledge yourself to oppose by vote and influence any attempt to impose a tax directly or indirectly upon fertilizers or their ingredients in demand by American farmers? Your immediate answer is earnestly requested to the above question, the same to be published in the papers of our district and the Farmers' Friend, by request of a large number of independent voters in your district. Very Respectfully yours, S. J. Conner, Master 5th District Grange Pa.

Per B., Sec.

Stroudsburg, Pa., October 24, 1882.—S. J. Conner, Esq—Dear Sir: In reply to yours of the 23d inst. I have the honor to say that if elected to Congress I pledge myself to oppose by vote and influence any attempt to impose a tax directly or indirectly upon fertilizers or their ingredients to be used therefor and in demand by American farmers. The American farmer today must send his farm products into all the markets of the world, and there sell them in competition with similar products raised by the cheapest kind of pauper labor. To say that he should pay a tax or duty on the ingredients essential to the fertilizing of the soil is to add injustice to neglect. Very truly yours,

John B. Storm.

Berwick Bits.

The leading event has been the visit of the Bishops of the M E Church, who held their Conference meetings here on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week.

The reception given at Mr. M. W. Jackson's, was a very pleasant affair and was largely attended by our own citizens as well as many friends from Bloomsburg and other neighboring towns.

The sermon preached in the church on Sunday morning by Bishop Andrews was a very excellent one and the services in the evening which consisted of impromtu addresses by Bishops Bowman Merrill and Hurst, were attended by a crowded Congregation.

Major H. C. Dane lectures in the Hall next Tuesday evening, on sights and scenes of London. This is the second time the Major appears before a Berwick audience and the recollection of his last lecture as being one of the most brilliant ever delivered here will ensure a crowded house on the occasion.

There is no truth in the report some of our people have got that Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt would visit Berwick this winter.

The mail service in this place is the most provoking thing imaginable we do not get mail matter on time two days in the week.

How would you Bloomsburg people like to have to wait for Philadelphia papers and other mail due on Saturday and delivered on Monday afternoon.

When mail matter does get here on time, it causes considerable surprise.

A set of 44 volumns of Atlantic Monthly and 23 volumns of Scribner's Magazine have just been added to the Library.

Espy Items.

The Band attended the Washingtonville Fair, and were delighted with their trip, especially with the treatment received at Billmeyer's. The boys believe in spiritualism.

The Greenbackers held a meeting in the school house last Thursday evening. A Mr. Sylvis delivered a lengthy speech in which he seemed to be particularly severe on the Jews.

Quite a number of our people attended the Bi-Centennial.

Milnes & Waples are doing a good business, and will succeed in spite of blackguarding "Sam."

Esquire Worman, our worthy poet, has been taking in the "Bi."

John Moorehead is happy, it's a girl.—

James and Frank Rice have just returned from Missouri with several dozen fine ponies, which they offer for sale at low figures.

The building of the M. E. church is being pushed ahead as fast as possible.

The Espy Hotel presents a fine appearance since it has been repaired and painted. The new veranda is quite an improvement, we believe it is one of the finest in this end of the county, and does credit to M. C. McCollum, the proprietor of the Espy planing mill. Miller & Blosser are doing a flourishing business, and deserve credit for the manner in which the house is conducted, especially for closing up before ten o'clock at night; it is an example that should be more generally followed.

We have a peculiar specimen of the feline tribe prowling around at all hours of the night, and morning, for—not for mice or rats, but she's death on "Poodle." It's a wonder she don't take cold peeping through keyholes and windows.

Our esthetic drummer has been enjoying himself at the "Bi." and feels happy. Especially since he has been able to leave the paternal wing. He is a good fellow and would get along well if it was not for—well, you all know what a limber, double-jointed, back-action jaw is.

"Quintessence."

Democratic Meetings.

A meeting was held at Fowlersville on Thursday evening October, 26th. Stephen H. Swank was president, Edward Wagner, Albert Brader, Lafayette Creasy, John Kelchner Jr, and Ellis Ringrose, vice presidents, James Kelchner, Joseph Creasy, William S. Hess, secretaries. The meeting was addressed by R. Buckingham and H. V. White.

At Bendertown on the 28th, W. H. Snyder, A. L. Fritz and R. Buckingham addressed a large meeting.

One of the most largely attended meetings ever known in that vicinity was held at the National Hotel in Slabtown on Saturday evening. Immediately after its organization Wm. Bryson, candidate for assembly made an able speech in support of the principles of the Democratic party, exhaustively reviewing the course and the pernicious effect upon the State, of the Cameron dynasty, and urging the necessity of a united support for Pattison and reform. Speeches were also made by William Chrisman, J. H. Maize, Hervey E. Smith and Hon. T. J. Vandersllce. During the meeting which lasted for nearly four hours, the utmost enthusiasm prevailed, and the speakers were frequently interrupted by bursts of applause; at its conclusion rousing cheers were given for Pattison and reform and for the whole ticket, local and state.

On Friday evening a meeting was held at Beaver Valley, and speeches made by J. C. Yocum and W. L. Eyerly.

R. Buckingham and William Bryson talked to the Democrats at Iola on the evening of the 30th.

At the Canby school house on Monday evening, Geo. E. Elwell and Guy Jacoby addressed a house full. The meeting was called to order by Elias Howell, the efficient committeeman of Mt Pleasant township. Hiram Thomas was chosen chairman of the meeting. There is not a Democrat in that township who has not paid his tax within two years.

The speakers assigned to Stonytown and Orangeville on Tuesday night, were unable to get to their appointments by the heavy rain that continued to fall until it was too late to start.

Jackson all O. K.

On Wednesday evening last, November 1st, a very enthusiastic meeting was held at the Union School House. The meeting was called to order by S. W. McHenry, ex-county Commissioner, and the following officers were nominated and elected to preside over the meeting, viz: J. F. Derr, president; vice presidents, Asa Yorks, George Hurleyman, Ezekiel Cole, John C. Lemon, C. B. McHenry, A. Everhart, F. L. Hess, Abram Dreibelbis. The Benton Band and the drum corps from upper Greenwood was present and discoursed some excellent music on the occasion. About two hundred of the sturdy Democrats of Jackson and vicinity were present and listened to some telling speeches. The first being made by R. Buckingham, chairman of the county Standing Committee, who gave a perfect description of Boss Cameron and the tricks that he and his followers resort to to catch Democratic votes, after which he was followed by Dr. J. R. Evans, also of Bloomsburg, who made some very appropriate remarks on the issues of the campaign and the general issues of the day. And the last person introduced was C. B. McHenry of Stillwater, who also made some very appropriate remarks. And it is but justice to say in addition to the above that we had a very fair representation of ladies present who always lend a helping hand when there is an honored object to accomplish.

And when the polls are closed on the 7th of November and the votes counted we will show the worthy contributor to the last week's Republican from Jackson who signs himself "Pilgrim" that we have no use for that salt river boat this fall, but that we will kindly loan it to him and all the henchmen of Boss Cameron and say to them a political farewell.

Rounsley—Roat.—On Tuesday, October 17, 1882, at the bride's home, by Rev. G. Savidge, Mr. Nathan Rounsley, of Clearfield county, Pa., to Miss Agnes Roat of Buckhorn, Pa. The happy couple left on the noon train for Houtzdale, Pa., where they intend making their future home.

The President has appointed Thursday November 30th. as a day of general thanksgiving.

A despatch from Denver says that owing to the defection in the Republican party Colorado will give about 2000 Democratic majority.

There seems to be a race between the states of New York and Pennsylvania to see which shall give the largest Democratic majority. New York claims that they will give 60,000.

Centralia ought to gain another delegate in the county convention this year, and she probably will.

William W. Hart will be elected state senator by an almost unanimous vote. There is no one in the field against him.

Stalwart speakers are accusing Pattison of permitting Phipps to steal the roof from the Philadelphia almshouse, but they forget to add that Phipps is a Stalwart Republican.

It is said that recent arrests for the violation of the revenue laws were intended for a political purpose. Those who were arrested have been promised to be permitted to settle the cases on condition that they vote for Beaver. Can honest and conscientious men support a party that resorts to such methods to secure success? Could the "christian gentleman" accept an election at the hands of coerced criminals?

For the last time we warn the democratic voters of Columbia county to pay no attention to any canards that our opponents may cast afloat at the last moment. Their newspapers will be full of them, and the mails will be flooded with campaign literature which will contain statements made too late for denial. Do not heed them. They are the death struggle of the enemy and the last kick will be a hard one, but it will be kicking against bricks.

Democrats of Columbia County! You gave to Gen. Hancock 4598 votes—can't you give Pattison 5000? The vote is in the county. Let each man go to the election with his buggy or spring wagon, and as he goes, pick up his neighbor and take him to the polls. Go out into the highways and hedges and bring the voter to the election. Five thousand votes for Pattison if every man does his duty. Think as you go on O-hi-o, and vote as they voted in O-hi-o.

In his speech at the Opera House last Friday night, Col. Stone, a Stalwart orator, said the Democrats were at the bottom of the Independent movement. This is giving the Democrats more praise than they ever claimed for themselves. If they have succeeded in capturing all the brains of the Republican party in this state, and enlisting them against Cameronism, they have certainly shown themselves competent to conduct the affairs of the state government. Mr. Stone, you flatter us.

The latest move of Republicans in this county is to profess indifference as to the result of the election, while talking to Democrats. They hope thereby to make Democrats feel so sure, that they will not take the trouble to vote. Do not be deceived.

This is only a trick, and on election day every Stalwart Republican will get to the polls and cast his ballot for Beaver. Not a single Democrat must fail to do his whole duty. A full vote will certainly give us the state by a large majority.

Democrats of Columbia county! Your ancient political enemy is upon you. Again you are to meet the old Federal party, under the name of Republican in political conflict. As you have vanquished him in the past, so now, buckle on your armour of honesty and economy and meet him at the polls. This is the death struggle of Republican bossism. This battle is fought by our opponents, not upon principle, but by money. Hayes was made president by forgery and perjury; Beaver is to made governor by bribery. Are you for sale? Will you be bought by Beaver, who is himself owned by Cameron? Let the old Star of the North shine with a more brilliant victory than ever before.

The American Institute on Speer's Wines.

A committee was appointed to visit Alfred Speer's Vineyards at Passaic, N. J. to examine his wines and cellars and report. The following is a part of the report: Many will be a little suprised to learn that within so short a distance from this city, has been prosecuted an enterprise of so much importance, and with so much success.

The quality of these wines are not excelled by any producer in the world and during the season when the operations of handling the grapes, expressing the juices and the other treatment are in active progress it is interesting and instructive to visit the vineyards and witness the operation.

The great value of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all diseases of women is demonstrated by every day experience. The writer of this had occasion to step into the principal Pharmacy of a city of 140,000 inhabitants, and on inquiry as to which is the most popular proprietary medicine of the time, was answered, that Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound occupies a most conspicuous place in the front rank of all the remedies of this class now before the public.—Journal.

We are persuaded that the ancient Hermes with all the subtle art and natural resources of the Alchemists, was a very poor doctor compared with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass. Hermes may have been after all only a clever practitioner of the Black Art; but we know there is no humbug in the pharmaceutical chemistry of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.

When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world that Consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The Doctor now gives this recipe free, only asking two three cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures night sweats, nausea at the stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Craddock & Co., 1032 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

The Real Republican Battle.

The battle on part of the Republicans of Pennsylvania is no longer one for the election of General Beaver, for that is impossible; but it is a battle for numerical superiority on the side of the Republican Bosses or on the side of the Republican people. All the proclaimed confidence of the machine leaders in the election of General Beaver is simply a shallow pretense to reduce Stewart's vote below that cast for Beaver. They know that Beaver must be tens of thousands short of an election under the most favorable circumstances, and the Cameron Bosses are now battling desperately to secure a majority of the Republican vote and thus be able to maintain their claim to the future control of the party organization. It is possible that General Beaver believes in his own election. He says so in all his speeches, and one of his limited experience in political campaigns, meeting only flatterers and receiving the ovations of his party, may be pardoned for the delusion that he is within reach of success; but outside of Beaver, there is not one of the machine leaders who doesn't know that the entire Cameron ticket is now hopelessly beaten. They now have only one objective point in the campaign, and that is to poll more votes for Beaver than the Independents can poll for Stewart; and they know that Stewart would largely lead Beaver if the Republican people of the State regarded Beaver's election as utterly hopeless. They count on holding from fifty to one hundred thousand Republicans to Beaver solely because there may be a possibility of Beaver's election, as many would reluctantly vote for Beaver as a choice between Beaver and a Democrat.

The Cameron machine could have had a Republican Governor by accepting Senator Stewart; but they have declined to have any Republican victory unless it shall be a Cameron victory. Cameron, Beaver and all the zealous supporters of the machine system, don't conceal their preference for Pattison over Stewart, and if Cameron and Beaver can't win, they mean that Pattison shall be the next Governor. In short, the one obstacle to Republican success in Pennsylvania is the Cameron Boss system and its State ticket, and it is now as certain as the rising of the sun on election day, that Beaver will be beaten largely. The Bosses obstinately refuse to have a purer and better Republican authority, preferring a Democratic Governor and Democratic control of the State to an honest Republican victory, and the single issue that remains for Republicans to battle for is the supremacy of Boss or Independent rule in the party.

The certainty of machine defeat absolves every Republican from all considerations of party expediency in casting his vote, and all can freely vote their own sincere convictions. If that shall be done, Stewart's vote will greatly exceed the machine vote for Beaver, and the Republican organization will thus be transferred to the honest and fearless men who are now battling for Republican integrity and manhood. A Boss victory is no longer possible in Pennsylvania, but a substantial triumph for an elevated and purified Republicanism can be achieved by polling two hundred thousand or more votes for John Stewart.—Philadelphia Times.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.
[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors—The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is a modest retired looking lady for work, which is the outcome of a life study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1, per bottle or six for $5, and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

Philadelphia, Pa. (Q) Mrs. A. M. D.
